

Program

APA National Congress 2010

Thursday 28 October 2010		ROOM
9.00 – 10.15am	Workshop (Combined)	BALLROOM
10.15 – 10.45am	Morning Tea	EXHIBITION AREA
10.45 – 12.30pm	Workshop (Combined)	BALLROOM
12.30 – 1.15pm	Lunch	EXHIBITION AREA
1.15 – 5.30pm	Workshop (Individual Sessions)	Leadership WAIANBAH	Education HINTERLAND 1	Business HINTERLAND 2
6.00 – 7.30pm	Welcome Reception	EXHIBITION AREA
SPONSORED BY:
Friday 29 October 2010
8.45 – 8.50am	Congress Welcome Congress MC – Toby Travanner	BALLROOM
8.50 – 8.55am	Welcome to the country Kombumerri tribe
8.55 – 9.20am	Congress Welcome & APA Update APA Board President

9.20 – 10.05am inc questions	KEYNOTE SPEAKER Marilyn Moffat , World Confederation for Physical Therapy (USA) The Challenges Confronting Physical Therapists and WCPT Advancing the Profession Around the World
10.05 – 10.45am	Glenn Ruscoe , Physiotherapy Board of Australia (WA) National Registration and Accreditation Scheme
10.45 – 11.10am	Morning Tea			EXHIBITION AREA
11.10 – 12.30pm	Concurrent Sessions
ROOM	WAIANBAH	HINTERLAND 1	HINTERLAND 2	ELSTON
SESSION CHAIRS	Cathy Nall	Liisa Laakso	Cherie Hearn	Debra Schulz
11.10 – 11.35	Maree Raymer Five Years On: Successes and Challenges in embedding physiotherapy led screening clinic services state-wide in Queensland.	Lucy Chipchase All things e in physiotherapy education	Joanne Morris Meeting the Challenges of Extending the Scope of Physiotherapists	Mark Alexander The skills of negotiation are critical for physiotherapists to achieve successful outcomes in business and health care reform.
11.35 – 12.00	Barbara Singer Injecting rights for physiotherapists – is the time right?	Louisa Remedios START: teaching kinesiology to Gen Y	Sandra Mercer Moore Physiotherapy assistants: the new wave of health workers.	Jennie Delaney/ Daniel Sih Herding cats: a collaborative change approach to team planning
12.00 – 12.25	Paula Harding Post Operative Orthopaedic Outpatients: The Introduction of a Physiotherapy Arthroplasty Review Clinic	Neil Tuttle Once more with feeling: future directions for teaching psychomotor skills	Alexandra Price I get by with a little help from my friends: How many Allied Health Assistants are enough?	Anna-Louise Bouvier How to build and sustain successful, cohesive teams of professionals

12.30 – 1.25pm	Lunch	SPONSORED BY: 	EXHIBITION AREA
1.25 – 2.05pm	Toby Travanner Psychographics – What makes people tick		BALLROOM
2.05 – 2.45pm	Fiona Lake , Professor of Medicine, University of WA Teaching on the Run
2.45 – 3.05pm	Afternoon Tea		EXHIBITION AREA
3.05 – 3.50pm	Mark McCrindle , McCrindle Research (NSW) Recruiting, Retaining and Training Diverse Generations		BALLROOM
3.50 – 4.10pm	Major Sponsor address (Guild)
4.10pm	Day 1 Close
7.00 – 11.00pm	APA Congress Dinner	SPONSORED BY: 	BALLROOM

Saturday 30 October 2010
9.00 – 9.05am	Day 2 Welcome		BALLROOM
9.05 – 9.35am	Dr Emil Djakic , AGPN (TAS) Connecting Care: The role and function of Primary Health Care Organisations-and the central role of stakeholder engagement and partnership

9.35 – 9.55am	Marcus Dripps , APA (VIC) Integrated Primary Healthcare
9.55 – 10.25am	Louise Schaper , NEHTA NEHTA – The current and future mission
10.25 – 11.05am	Robert Wells , Director, Menzies Centre for Health Policy Executive Director, ANU College of Medicine, Biology and Environment Primary Reform: improved to Physiotherapy
11.05 – 11.35am	Morning Tea			EXHIBITION AREA
11.35 – 12.50pm	Concurrent Sessions
ROOM	HINTERLAND 1	ELSTON	HINTERLAND 2	WAIANBAH
SESSION CHAIRS	Jonathon Kruger	Cherie Hearn	Jenny Kerr	Liisa Laakso
11.35 – 12.00pm	Sara Brentnall An evaluation of a new multidisciplinary triage models in a persistent pain management service	Gwendolen Jull Innovations in clinical education for physiotherapy students	Caroline Bills Improving adherence to treatment advice - the Health Coaching approach.	Jason Smith Healthcare and charity - a physio first!
12.00 – 12.25pm	Jennie Delaney To give a fish or learn to fish? Introducing sustainable physiotherapy services to the Central Highlands of Tasmania	Peter Thomas Experience and outcomes from state-wide, simulation based, post-graduate education programs for intensive care, cardiorespiratory and orthopaedic physiotherapy.	Jenni Smith Interprofessional Practice - what is it really and why does it matter?	Leanne Johnston Impact of physical care tasks on the health of unpaid carers of people with cerebral palsy and similar physical disabilities

12.25 – 12.50pm	Kelly Paterson Pilot trial of a paediatric physiotherapy drop-in screening clinic aims to improve access and efficiency in a community health facility	Anne Moseley The core journals that publish randomised controlled trails of physiotherapy interventions	Elizabeth Williams Building capacity in the rural physiotherapy workforce: a paediatric training partnership.	Margot Skinner The changing scope of curricula and health needs – what's in and what's out in the Asia Western Pacific Region
12.50 – 1.50pm	Lunch		EXHIBITION AREA
1.50 – 2.45pm inc questions	Steve Simpson , Author, consultant and Director of Keystone Management (QLD) UGR's – Unwritten Ground Rules: The way we really do things around here		BALLROOM
2.45 – 3.45pm	Q & A Discussion Higher entry level degrees in physiotherapy will lead to better patient care. Over the past few years physiotherapy education has been rapidly changing. One of the most noticeable changes is the movement of entry level degrees from bachelor programs to Master and Doctorate programs. These changes are a result of the changing practice and the evolution of a profession. They are often explained in the context of moving the profession to a new level; to better market professional services in an expanded and competitive global environment; and, to increase the entry-level education of professions that are moving to autonomous practice and thus have greater accountability to the public. Is there evidence to support these arguments? In this discussion participants will outline how this 'creeping credentialism' is impacting on the physiotherapy profession. Marilyn Moffat Robert Wells Margaret Grant Cathy Nall Jason Smith
3.45 – 3.55pm	Congress Close

